The NWA is a member-led, all inclusive, non-profit, independent professional association supporting and promoting excellence in operational meteorology and related activities since 1975. Members have many opportunities to share information, news, studies and concerns related to operational meteorology and related activities through committee work, submitting correspondence or articles to NWA publications such as the Newsletter, National Weather Digest and the online Electronic Journal of Operational Meteorology, making presentations or leading workshops at the Annual Meeting, helping to maintain and add information to the NWA Web site, and to network with great people in a wide variety of careers (from well-known senior professionals in operational meteorology and related fields to weather information users and weather enthusiasts). Members join together on many outreach education/training initiatives to students, users of weather information, and the general public. Members also have the opportunity to volunteer for many leadership positions in the organization. Weather Broadcasters have the opportunity to earn the NWA Radio and Television Weathercaster Seals of Approval. The NWA also sponsors an Annual Awards program to recognize individual and group excellence, provides college scholarships, awards grants to K-12 teachers and many other programs. Membership fees provide full voting membership, National Weather Digests, monthly NWA Newsletters, reduced registration fees at NWA Annual Meetings, reduced costs for NWA Monographs and Publications and more.

For further information about the NWA and its many programs, services and initiatives please browse through the NWA Web site (<http://www.nwas.org/>) or contact the NWA Executive Director's office in Raleigh, North Carolina by phone at (919) 845-1546 or by e-mail at: exdir@nwas.org.

Corporate Membership applications are available online at the Member Portal <http://member.nwas.org> or in printed form at: <http://www.nwas.org/membership/index.php>.
